Rachel Kitonyo Devotsu

Senior Tobacco Advisor, Mc Cabe Centre for Law and Cancer, Kenya

Biography

Rachel Kitonyo Devotsu has 17 years of experience in cancer control ranging from advocacy for tobacco and alcohol control legislation in Kenya, building capacity of civil society organisations in 10 Sub-Saharan African countries to advocating for adoption and implementation of tobacco control laws within their countries, and training government policy makers and enforcement agents on adoption and implementation of NCD control measures. Rachel is based in Nairobi, Kenya. She leads the components of the McCabe Centre's training and capacity building programs that relate to the African region and provides technical support to governments in the African Region. Rachel was the recipient of a WHO World No Tobacco Day Award in 2020 in recognition of her tobacco control efforts in the African region.
